Soon, MSMEs will get support for cheap credit, factoring services: DGFT

TRADE ASSISTANCE. Commerce, Finance and MSME Ministries are likely to roll out schemes in 3-4 months

Amiti Sen

MSME exporters will soon get targeted assistance from the government through specific schemes for cheap credit, factoring services and assistance to deal with non-tariff measures in other countries, an official said.

The schemes, being framed under the ₹2,250 crore export promotion mission announced in the Union Budget for 2025-26, are being jointly drafted by the Commerce, Finance and MSME Ministries. "These are likely to be rolled out in 3-4 months," Director General of Foreign Trade Santosh Sarangi said at an interaction with reporters on Tuesday.

POPULAR SCHEMES

Provisions under the market access initiative (MAI) and the interest equalisation scheme, the two popular schemes for marketing assistance and subsidised credit for exporters which have not received any budgetary allocation, will be subsumed in the export promotion mission for now, the DGFT said. Announcing the export promotion mission in her Budget speech on February 1, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman said it will facilitate easy access to export credit, cross-border factoring support and assistance for MSMEs in tackling non-tariff measures in overseas markets

Sarangi said that promoting factoring services, where the service provider takes on the responsibility for collecting the money from the foreign buyer on behalf of the exporters, even if the buyer defaults on the payment, would bring down exporters' dependence on banks.

Although export factoring services is a widely used financing instrument globally, it has low adoption in India

Birla Corp Q3 net falls 71% to ₹31 crore

Cement maker Birla Corporation, the MP Birla Group flagship, on Tuesday reported a 71.42 per cent year-onyear fall in its consolidated net profit to ₹31.19 crore for the third quarter this fiscal as the company's realisation from cement sales was down due to lower prices.

This is due to high factoring costs involving higher The Kolkata-based comrate of interests, higher risk pany's net profit stood at premium, and lack of parity ₹109.14 crore for the third quarter last fiscal.

The company witnessed a revenue de-growth of 2.33 per cent year-on-year at ₹2,256.65 crore for Q3FY25 compared to ₹2,310.44 crore for Q3FY24, according to a stock exchange filing.

Amazon MX Player to focus more on delivering new content to Indian audience

bl. interview

Vallari Sanzgiri

Amazon MX Player will focus on catering to the diverse audience in India across tier 1-3 cities, says Karan Bedi, Head of Amazon MX Player. Last year, MX Player merged with Amazon's miniTV.

Amogh Dusad, Head of Content, says they are working on new forms of content such as two-minute -long episodes to attract viewers who don't have time for long shows. Aruna Daryanani, Director, Amazon MX Player, and Girish Prabhu, Head of Amazon Ads India, speak about using generative Al tools for advertisers. Edited excerpts:

After the merger, how are you planning your content? Is it still the young adult target audience or has it branched out? Dusad: Along the miniTV journey, we have created some franchises and characters that get a lot of consumer attraction. We will continue to give returning seasons of those like Gutar Gu, Campus Beats, and Heartbeats.

We will also program the shows with wider appeal like Ashram and Hunter. The beauty of digital is we can optimise for both audiences: The one from miniTV and what we inherited from MX.

What's new in store for users of the integrated platform?

Dusad: We are working on a new category called MX Fatafat, which provides twominute vertical-scrolling scripted dramas.

It is like a long show series with episodes running for only two minutes for consumers who don't have time to binge-watch long shows.

We got a positive response from creators on this because it's a new creative chalfor storytellers, screenplay writers, actors, technicians.

There is lot of excitement because the creative fraternity also wants to look for the next new thing and what can

In terms of the product itself, how are you planning to integrate the platforms?

We closed the transaction in September 2024. That we were able to invite everyone for the content slate event in January is a testament of how quickly the team has integrated the two platforms. So, now it is all backend-integrated into the same Obviously because the miniTV app still has some customers from promotions, erstwhile there's some transition left. Over time, it will all be

Amazon MX player, one brand, one service and that will be available not only on Play Store apps but also on all Connected TV apps as Usually platforms focus more on English and Hindi. Are you thinking of branching out into other languages as well? Dusad: Almost all of our shows are localised in the Tamil and Telugu languages. A big part of our catalogue are shows that come in Korean, Mandarin and Turkish languages which get localised in Hindi, Tamil and Telugu. The 2025 priority is about strengthening our connect with the Hindispeaking audience. We will continue to evaluate regional as an area of further growth as and when we take stock of the business and the other

Bedi: We have 250 million monthly unique actors and a very diverse audience across geographies, genders, agegroups, and income-groups.

So, the first goal is to provide a range of content for the diverse audience, through a diverse set of brands and advertisers and then use the Amazon signals to ensure that it is relevant for them. Reach plus relevance equal results; the goal for 2025 is to roll this out in What's your audience outside metro regions? Bedi: Around 50 per cent of our audience is in tier 1-3 cities. We are deeply penetrated into every part of the geography.

In terms of AI, is there anything you are looking forward to, in terms of production or content?

Bedi: We are rolling out a generative AI tool that will allow brands to create advertisements that can be put on to Amazon MX and other services in an automated AI manner.

Prabhu: We are working on bringing GenAI to advertisers to help better leverage Amazon Signals.

Advertisers can state their objective and products, and we can then make recommendations as per their needs and that can lead into campaigns outcomes.

Daryanani: Users can also shop in between ads on the platform.

You don't watch an ad with the same intensity that you watch a show. You get a bit distracted and switch off.

But now when the ad is playing, the landing page on the Amazon site will open up below the video and you can browse through it.

And this is within that same interface. We are not taking customers out, unlike other video services that take you to some random page outside and break the experience. We're also bringing in immersive ads.

Viewers tend to go to specific OTT for specific content such as sports and original shows.

What will Amazon MX player bring to viewers? Bedi: When you think about other services and the originals, there is a particular segment that they target but the content that we program for is targeted at the diversity that this country has.

We brought everything from young college romance set in Indore to action drama set in Agarpur to corporate drama set in Mumbai.

So, that is what we stand for, this diverse content for the diversity that India brings.
